A pale and puny creature, In rags and dirt forforn; What could she want, I questioned Impatient to be gone, With trembling voice, she answer "We live just down the atreet, And mammy she's a dyin', And we've nothing left to eat!"

Down in a wretched basement,
With mould upon the walls,
Through whose half-buried windows
God's sunshine never falls;
Whare, sold, and want, and hunger
Crouched near her as she lay,
I found a fellow-creature
Gasping her life away!

A chair, a broken table,
A bed of dirty straw,
A hearth all dark and cheerless;
But these I scarcely saw,
For the mournful sight before me,
The sad and sick ning show—
Oht never had I pictured
A scene so full of woe!

Oh! Christian! God has pron

You need not seek it far

Bishop McGill's Letter.

We find in our Bichmond exchanges a lettiron this reverend divine, head of the Cathol Church in this State. As a specimen of transpares ophistry and cool, calm, and deliberate priest assurance it is worthy a place among the bulls the Popes in earlier ages, when kings were diposed, or mada to bare their backs to the scour; of arrogant monks. Bishop McGill may be a vergood and a very pious man. He has a perfeight to publish this, or any other farrage of section nonsense and impudence that he chooses.
